Testimonial to the Rev GG Gardiner Summary of published Address & Reply:

We have pleasure in complying with the request to insert the following Address to this much respected Clergyman on the occasion of his quitting our City for a season together with his Reply. The Address to which we one hundred and twenty names were annexed was, we are gratified in stating, accompanied with a present of £230 and a handsome silver inkstand worth £26 from the establishment of Messrs Payne of Old Bond Street, Bath.

Address to the Rev GG Gardiner 26 June 1851 Bath

Rev and dear Sir -We desire to express in behalf of ourselves, of the members of your congregation generally as well as of other friends, our deep regret at your departure from Bath. By that event we are about to lose the presence of one whom we have esteemed and respected as a minister, loved and valued as a friend, one whose sterling worth and strict integrity have been long tested, one to whose active and unremitting exertions in aid of public objects of benevolence we, in common with many in this city, are largely indebted and by whom the Protestant and Evangelical principles of our beloved Church have ever, with most undeviating consistency been maintained. In the name of members of the Octagon Congregation and others whose signatures are attached, we request your acceptance of the accompanying Memorial of respectful and affectionate regard. We remain Rev and dear Sir, yours most sincerely PC Sheppard, Edward Hodges, John P Hardy, Samuel Sampson

Reply from the Rev GG Gardiner of 12 Cavendish Place, Bath 28 June 1851

To the Members of the Octagon Congregation and to those other Friends who have kindly united in the Testimonial

My very dear Friends - You will, I am persuaded, readily believe that my feelings upon the present occasion must be of a mingled character and partake both of pain and pleasure. It is very painful to part even for a season from those with whom I have been so long connected, ministerially and socially and at whose hands I have ever experienced the most unvarying kindness. At the same time it is a source of great gratification under the heavy trial of separation to call to mind the sympathy and affectionate consideration which have been so remarkably evinced towards me. I pray you accept my most sincere and heartfelt acknowledgement for your handsome and unmerited Testimonial and your munificent and truly gratifying gift. Words I can assure you are quite inadequate to express my emotions of gratitude and affection to the valued friends and brethren whom I am about to leave in this city. Permit to embrace this opportunity to address a few words specially to the Members of the Octagon Congregation. The Octagon Chapel has been bound up with some of my earliest and tenderest recollections. I have on this account felt utterly unequal to the effort of a valedictory address from the pulpit or of calling personally at your houses for the purpose of taking leave. You will I doubt not, attribute my conduct to its true cause and not to any ingratitude or indifference. The remembrance of your kindness will remain so long as life lasts, deeply engraven on my heart; and it will ever prove a source of consolation and encouragement amid the difficulties and disappointments to which in future I may be exposed. I shall not fail to remember you my beloved friends and remain with much regard, your truly obliged and very affectionate friend and servant

Summary of Obituary published 19 November 1890:

The death is announced at St Leonard's on Sea of the Rev George Gregory Gardiner who succeeded his father the Rev John Gardiner D.D as proprietor and incumbent of the Octagon Chapel until the year 1851. When Mr Gardiner left Bath the Rev Fountaine Elwin continued to be Morning Lecturer; the Rev WC Magee (the present Bishop of Peterborough) being his colleague as Afternoon Lecturer. On the resignation of the former, Mr Magee became sole minister. In 1856 the lease on which the chapel was held having nearly expired, the congregation renewed it for another term at their own cost and presented it to their eloquent pastor. After leaving Bath Mr Gardiner became the English Chaplain at Bonn, from where he went to the English Protestant Chapel in Avenue Marboeuf, Paris where he remained until the eve of the siege of Paris. He eventually became Rector of St Mary's Church, St Leonards on sea. The most luxurious and pampered in these days would feel insulted if on going to the most fashionable chapel they were let into a small carpeted saloon with a fire to keep their toes warm. Yet this little dainty arrangement was kept up in the Octagon until Bishop Magee's time who abolished it. Only a
